May 20, 1951

Dear Graduates:

This greeting conveys due congratulations upon your graduation. It implies likewise felicitations to the devoted Sisters who guided you to this happy day. Nor does it fail to commend your good parents who with Christian prudence and zeal committed you to the I.H.M. Academy for a sound Catholic education.

Your graduation may aptly be termed a commencement. You now begin to utilize in a more complete way the lessons and principles developed here. As you start this life we cite for you the directive words of Christ: "You are the light of the world." You are to let the light of a truly Christian life shine in the midst of darkness. As you commence your past school life we recall words addressed to you at the start of the Christian life on the day of Baptism: "Carry this light without blame before the judgment seat of Our Lord Jesus Christ so that when Our Lord shall come to His nuptials you may meet Him together with all the saints of the heavenly court, and live forever and ever."

Today as you go out from school we hope your life, will by its light, reveal to all that you have attained the purpose of Catholic education. Pope Pius XI has thus described that purpose:

"The proper and immediate end of Christian education is to co-operate with divine grace in forming the true and perfect Christian, that is, to form Christ Himself in those regenerated by Baptism, according to the emphatic expression of the Apostle: 'My little children, of whom I am in labor again, until Christ be formed in you.' For the true Christian must live a supernatural life in Christ: 'Christ who is your life,' and display it in all his actions: 'That the life also of Jesus may be made manifest in your mortal flesh.'

For precisely this reason, Christian education takes in the whole aggregate of human life, physical and spiritual, intellectual and moral, individual, domestic and social, not with a view of reducing it in any way, but in order to elevate, regulate and perfect it, in accordance with the example and teaching of Christ.

Hence the true Christian, product of Christian education, is the supernatural man who thinks, judges and acts constantly and consistently in accordance with right reason illumined by the supernatural light of the example and teaching of Christ.... The true Christian does not renounce the activities of this life, he does not stunt his natural faculties; but he develops and perfects them by co-ordinating them with the supernatural. He thus ennobles what is merely natural in life and secures for it new strength in the material and temporal order, no less than in the spiritual and eternal.

This fact is proved by the whole history of Christianity and its institutions.... It stands out conspicuously in the lives of the numerous Saints, whom the Church, and she alone, produces, in whom is perfectly realized the purpose of Christian education, and who have in every way ennobled and benefited human society. Indeed, the Saints have ever been, are, and ever will be the greatest benefactors of society, and perfect models for every class and profession, for every state and condition of life...

Such are the fruits of Christian education. Their price and value is derived from the supernatural virtue and life in Christ which Christian education forms and develops in man. Of this life and virtue Christ Our Lord and Master is the source and dispenser. By His example He is at the same time the universal model accessible to all, especially to the young in the period of His hidden life, a life of labor and obedience, adorned with all the virtues, personal, domestic and social, before God and men."

Faithfully yours,

Father Collins C.Ss.R.

GRADUATES REVIEW SCHOOL DAYS

Seven of the eighteen graduates of the Academy can recall their entrance into the same school twelve years ago. Side by side through grammar school and high school were: William Dawson, John Orr, Thomas Koep, William Boltz, Phyllis Rutten, Connie Proell and Patricia Baker.

The Dawson family can turn back to 1916, when Mr. Earl Dawson, Bill's father graduated from the Academy. His mother, the former Gertrude Groves belonged to the graduating class of '18, and his sisters, Mrs. Thomas Jacobson and Miss Mary Dawson, the classes of '43 and '47.

Mrs. N. Baker, the former Teresa Spain and mother of Patricia Baker, was a member of the graduating class of '27. Mrs. Charles Proell, the former Irene Spain also attended the Academy. Thomas Koep was preceded in graduation by his brother Ralph '40 and his sisters Mildred '41, and Jeanette '47.

Miss Shirley Boltz '49 is the sister of William Boltz of this year's class. Jack Orr is the youngest of three brothers who have graduated from the Academy. Robert belonged to the class of '42 and Gerald to the class of '46.

CLASSES GIVE OUTDOOR PARTY

A weiner roast, around a cheerful bonfire was the first step in the treat of the sophomores and freshmen. Everything that went with an outdoor picnic, was served.

Next in order was a farewell dance in the Academy hall. So long, it's been good to know you, was the theme. Crimson and white, the senior colors were the colors of the decorations.

Sketches of the seniors accentuating some characteristic of each were hung on the walls.

As a parting gift each senior received a beautiful scapular medal and a prayer of St. Francis.

SENIORS SPONSOR BINGO

"Bingo!" shouted the senior boys as they took their places at the microphone, in St. Thomas school at the regular fall festival.

Senior students have always had charge of the bingo game at these activities, but this year's class can boast of the largest crowd and the highest income. Over $120 was realized for the new St. Thomas grade school.

Prizes of different values ranging from an airplane ride, merchandise and meals at restaurants, to toys for the younger set, were graciously donated by kind people in Coeur d'Alene,

DINE AT CLARK HOUSE

Delightful, delicious, different was surprise dinner and dance at the Clark House near Hayden Lake.

Mothers of the seniors planned this entertainment for their sons and daughters for May 17.

For years one of the pre-graduation treats was a progressive dinner, a course at a number of the senior homes, but the class of '51 departed from this for something new and different and exciting.

and different and exciting.

With several of the priests of the parish, they set off for an evening of fun, to a surprise place and a surprise dinner, which was beyond their expectations.

Ever will that evening at the Clark House, where mothers happily entertained the gay graduates, be remembered.

Dear

Finally here it is. We graduate tomorrow. In one respect it is one of the most important days in my life but in another it is one of the saddest, sad because so many memories that have made my last year in high school unforgettable are climaxed. This last year in high school has been a real clincher to all four.

It was really fun to exercise our superiority on those freshmen at initiation, and to see them polishing shoes and bowing and scraping to the mighty seniors.

Then towards Thanksgiving we prepared for the Harvest Ball, sponsored by the press club. What a time we had selecting the theme. We finally ended up with "All My Love" and decorated the hall with pine cones and cedar boughs.

And what a time we had Christmas, our last mid-night Mass together, all singing those beautiful Christmas carols.

One thing all of us liked was the receiving of the freshmen into our Lady's Sodality in May.

And oh! our spring play. We produced "Meet Me In St. Louis". We didn't have too much time to work on it but every one said it was a success.

The fun didn't really begin though until graduation drew near. All of the recitals, the glee club singing, and those dillies of tests, scholarship exams, all were exciting. Our last formal dance, the Junior Prom, was really something extra special for the seniors. Many of the girls were given orchid corsages.

As commencement exercises approached our mothers treated us to a delicious progressive dinner. They kept all their plans a secret in order that everything would be a complete surprise for us. The St. Thomas P.T.A. had a luncheon for us at the new grade school. The Sisters honored us with a wonderful breakfast. Here the priests of our parish joined us in this delightful treat.

All in all we were treated like celebrities but we didn't mind it in the least.

Well, I think I'm getting writer's cramp. I just couldn't help telling you all about it. I'm sure none of us will ever forget the other kids, the faculty and priests. God bless them all. They were wonderful to us.

Sincerely,

Patti Gustafson

CLASSES REPORT

Patrick Coyle, president; Anne Young, secretary and Prudence McCourt, social chairman were the choice of the juniors for class officers of the year.

Under their leadership scholastic and social activities were promoted and everyone found his own place in some special work. Some school subjects were new to the third year students. Typing and shorthand were novel experiences and very fascinating courses.

As classes moved on, other fields opened. The three boys turned out for sports and several girls became interested in debate. Then there was the dramatics class, the girls' basketball team, champion of the school. The school paper claimed a number of future writers. Elva Balentine won second prize for her essay on Aid to the Handicapped.

No doubt the greatest social event was the Junior Prom.

Courses taken by these students were: Church History, Plane Geometry, English, Latin and Biology. Evidence of interest in biology was outwardly shown by two flourishing aquariums, a very fine seoscope and from time to time some live specimens.

One member of the class, Donald Ihly, who belonged to the National Guards, was called to active duty in May.

Sports claimed several of the boys and dramatics class, boys and girls.

In social events, the sophomores took the lead on two special occasions. The Halloween Costume Party and the farewell party given to the seniors by sophomores and freshmen.

After the trial and suspense of the initiation, the freshmen started their high school days with Robert Meyer, president; Margaret Gordon, secretary and Bernadine Batchelder, treasurer.

The fundamentals of Latin and algebra were new adventures and these with English, history, religion and art completed the course.

In other activities the freshmen found their places, boys in sports. A very fast moving girl's basketball team entered the school tournament.

As clients of Our Lady, many joined the probation class to learn the duties and privileges of sodalists. Their desires were accomplished on May 1 when Father Collins received them into Our Lady's Sodality.

A big day in the lives of many was their first formal dance, the Junior Prom. The sophomore-freshmen party and their own social affair of the year, the Freshman Hop, brought the year to a close.

NEW STAFF TAKES OVER

SEVEN COMPLETE TWELVE YEARS TOGETHER

Twelve years together and plenty to talk and laugh about. Left to right: William Boltz, William Dawson, Thomas Koep, Connie Proell, Jack Orr, Patricia Baker, and Phyllis Rutten.

SOCIAL IS FORMAL AFFAIR

A principal social event of the fall season is the Harvest Ball, sponsored by the Press Club.

For the first time an orchestra furnished the entertainment and dance music. The students danced to the strains of "All My Love", the theme and other popular tunes selected by the Rhythm Aires.

In keeping with the Thanksgiving season, the assembly sang "Thanks Be To God."

A VARIETY OF COSTUMES

The grand march ceases and all line up for the judging.

GAY THEME FOR PROM

Let's Merry-Go-Round on the Merry-Go, Merry-Go-Round, thus rang out the theme song of the 1951 Junior Prom, as the Rhythum Aires orchestra struck up the dance music.

St. Thomas Hall was the place where a very realistic merry-go-round encircled the center of the floor. Streamers of red and white created an atmosphere of gaiety.

In a place of honor, surrounded by roses, stood the statue of Our Lady, the May Queen.

In this setting, Anne Young, queen of the Prom and her escort, Herbert

McLaughlin, led the group in a grand march. Later in the evening the queen, attended by Dolores Bixel and Prudence McCourt, received her crown of roses and sweet peas.

The program at intermission consisted of Scandinavian folk dances, by a group of Coeur d'Alene girls in traditional Scandinavian dress. They were accompanied by their teacher and accompanist. Other numbers were songs by the Academy Glee Club and harmonizing "Forever and Ever" by Leona Toulou and Patricia Clark.

CONDUCTS RECOLLECTION DAY

Father N. Walsh, vocational guidance supervisor for the diocese of Boise, conducted a day of recollection for girls of North Idaho on Monday, October 23, at the Academy. Approximately twenty-five out-of-town girls were present.

Exercises began at one o'clock and a series of instructions continued throughout the afternoon. Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament terminated the spiritual devotions and a social hour followed.

DE SALES DEANERY

A De Sales deanery meeting for the young people in the dioceses of North Idaho brought the students together in the evening. Out-of-town priests who brought a delegation were Father P. Ahern of Sandpoint and Father J. Hallisay of Bonners Ferry.

NEW CLUB NAMES OFFICERS

Peggy Bower, president; Helene Alderson, secretary; Dolores Bixel, spiritual treasurer; and Phyllis Rutten, news reporter were the officers elected at the first meeting of Our Lady of Good Counsel Club for high school girls.

Sister M. Kevina, director of the club, presided at the first meeting, at which Sister explained the purpose of the club which is to help young girls with their vocations and encourage vocations to the religious life.

The club presented a short vocation play, "High Ways", to awaken vocation-mindedness in the high school students. Brown scapulars were made and sent to the various missions.

Club pins, medals of Our Lady of Good Counsel, were presented to the members of the May meeting.

SODALISTS WIND UP YEAR

With the school year drawing to a close, the Sodalists are looking forward to the S.S.C.A., in Spokane this summer. At the conference, to take place in early July, the theme will be "Citizen of Two Worlds."

New Sodalists from the freshman class will also be able to attend the conference. These members, after several weeks of probation, pledged themselves to Our Lady on April 30.

Along with daily rosary in honor of Our Lady of Fatima, many triduumms of Masses and Communions were made on the special feast days of Our Blessed Mother.

Outstanding social event of the Sodality year was the Christmas dance on December 20. Cancelled stamps were the admission, which totaled 45,600 stamps for the missions.

In an effort to meet the requirements of rule 5, regular Sodality meetings were stressed this year, and were held in the senior classroom once a month.

An important spiritual activity of the members during the last semester of the school year was the making of a spiritual bouquet for the boys who previously attended the Academy, and are now in the armed forces.

May 1, marked the reception in the sodality of eighteen new members. The ceremony took place in St. Thomas Church, where each boy and girl knelt before our Lady's statue as Father Collins pinned the badge of the Blessed Mother on the new sodalist.

Father reminded all of their great privilege and spoke of the protection of Our Lady promised to those who are faithful to her rosary and the three Hail Mary's said daily.

PUBLICATIONS RATED

Once again the Academy Laurel and Le Coeur received honors at the Catholic Northwest High School Press Conference on October 20 and 21. Students from the Academy joined other students from four Northwestern states at this annual convention.

Catholicism with journalism in their publications was the theme of the sessions.

One of the seniors, Patricia Baker, represented the Academy in the scholarship tests given at the convention.

A banquet climaxed the meeting at the university with Father Corkery, S.J. presenting awards to the different publications. In recognition of their publication, the Laurel, staff members received pencils, and editors, a pen and pencil set. The 1950 Le Coeur rated first place in its division.

As the annual goes to print, word comes from the University of Idaho that the Laurel was rated "Excellent" in the recent judging at the annual Press Conference in Moscow.

FRESHMEN DON QUAIN TOGS

Short skirts of the early nineteen forties and knickerbockers of the nineteenth century, combined with pig-tails and pin curls were the high lights of the freshmen initiation which took place on September fifteenth.

Twenty-seven freshmen who were the center of fun and frolic, were kept busy polishing shoes and carrying books for their superiors, the seniors.

That night the freshmen were put through their final paces. The main attraction of the evening was a pie feeding contest between Carolyn Washburn and Charles Douglas which turned into a hilarious pie-throwing act.

The evening was climaxed by dancing which was enjoyed by the entire student body.

FAIRYLAND CHARACTERS ENJOY PARTY

"We're off to see the wizard, the wonderful Wizard of Oz," thus sang the fairyland characters from the Wizard of Oz group, as they mysteriously took over the Academy Hall October 30.

As the grand march progressed it revealed various "eye-catchers" such as the unknown Clown, Larry Gustafson, the dancing gypsy, Prudence McCourt, Peggy Bower as the tin man and Mary Jo Ketcham, Fido, the barking dog.

For novel entertainment during intermission, Don Ihly showed a silent film, "The Headless Horseman."

The Hallowe'en party was sponsored by the sophomore class under the direction of Sister M. Samuel. Robert Brown presided as chairman of the dance.

ESSAY TAKES SECOND PLACE

Elva Balentine junior student, won second prize of $25 in the state for her essay on Employment for the Handicapped.

The national essay contest was sponsored by The President's Committee on National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week, United States Department of Labor and Cooperating State and Territorial Governors' Committees.

In a poetry contest inaugurated by the Catholic Daughters of America, Elva won first honors for her poem, "Mater Dolorosa."

Alice Gribnau, senior, took second place with her selection, "Little Jesus," and Elizabeth Balliot, sophomore, won third honors with "Too tired to Pray."

CONTEST IN WRITING

Other contests of the year were an essay contest sponsored by the Ladies Auxiliary Veterans of Foreign War, entitled "Freedom's Open Door". Essays were submitted by a number of students.

The Idaho Writers' League of Coeur d'Alene opened a spring contest in poetry and short stories. Several exciting stories and a variety of poetry was sent to the contest chairman at this writing.

GIVEN SPORTS AWARD

Honors for the season of sports went to Patrick Coyle who merited the Niscot Award for being the most inspirational player. Darrell Ereaux and Roy Gustafson were rated honorary co-captain.

COMEDY IS CHOICE

Drama students of the I.H.M. Academy kept their large audience entertained throughout their presentation of "Meet Me in St. Louis" on May 8, 1951, in the Academy auditorium. Setting for the hilariously funny play was arranged through recordings of the popular song by the same name.

The scenes of the play take place in the living room of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Smith, in St. Louis. The roles of the Smiths were played by Pat Coyle and Patricia Baker.

Patricia Gustafson was the "queenly" Rose; Alice Gribnau, Esther; Helene Alderson, the fiery Agnes; Jackie Griffith, mischievous Tootie, daughters of the Smiths.

William Dawson played the role of the son, Lon; Thomas Koep, Grandpa Prophater, Mrs. Smith's father; Beverly Oke, the cook, Katie; Anne Young, Ida Boothby, sweet on Lon; Rose Ellen Mackin, the role of an irate neighbor; Charles Hannan, John Shephard, sweet on Rose; Roy Gustafson, Fred Gregory, sweet on Esther; Phyllis Rutten, Lucille Pentard, a "menace" from the east; Pat McCormick, Mr. Dodge, Mr. Smith's boss; John Orr, Mr. Duffy, who is up to no good; and last but by no means least, Stuffy Boughton, "Lady Babbie", the cat.

Mrs. Victoria Boughton was director, and assistant was Beverly Oke. Stage crew included Thomas Koep, Rose Ellen Mackin and William Dawson.

PAGEANT FOR CHRISTMAS

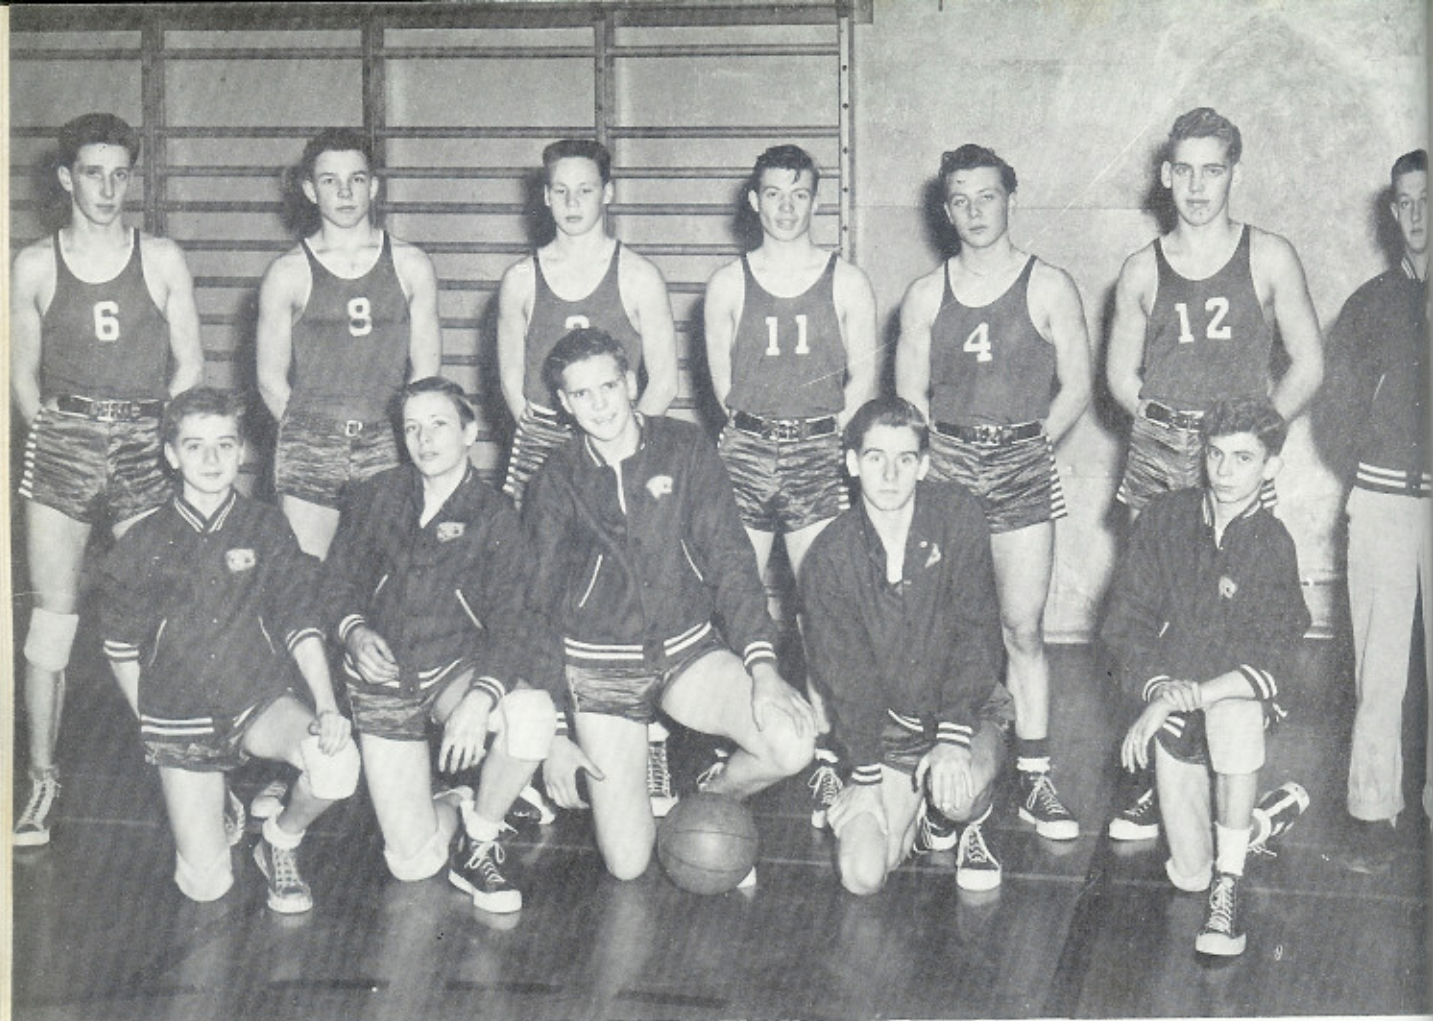

To You, a Savior, a choric pageant by Betty Provendar and Rita Cowall was the production cast by the high school dramatics class, on December 19, 1950, in the Academy auditorium.

Apparitions of Our Lady constituted the staging of the pageant. Such scenes as: Our Lady of Guadalupe, Our Lady of LaSalette, Our Lady of Fatima and the Christmas Crib were the outstanding scenes.

The choric pageant was presented at the Catholic Theater Conference at Holy Names College in Spokane.

Unity and clarity of voice was commended by the judge. It was given a place of honor on the program and rated as one of the outstanding productions at the conference.

The new gymnasium was made possible through the Catholic Daughters who financed the work. In addition this organization procured the girls' letters.

FOOTBALL FACTS

Academy Panthers of "51", under the coaching of Glenn Butler and assistant, Dick Naish, were considered the dark horse of the Panhandle and a great threat to many teams. Although the team was of average weight and speed it ended the season with 3 games won and 3 games lost.

The season opened on a bright, September afternoon at Rose Lake. The game began with the Cardinals moving ahead with a 6 point lead, but the Panthers came back in the second quarter. After the kick off, Koep threw to Gustafson for 20 yards who legged it to the end zone and Ereaux converted. The battle surged back and forth until the remaining minutes of the third quarter when Coyle going off tackle for a line smashed a T.D. The remaining quarter was the Academy who held Rose Lake to a virtual standstill. The final score was 26-12.

On October 3 the Academy came to grips with Spirit Lake Spartans. But due to injuries the Spartans dropped the Panthers to a score of 19-14.

On October 17 the Academy met Post Falls on the Academy gridiron for the hardest fought battle of the year. Rain fell constantly drenching both players and the several hundred onlookers. But through consistant passing and effectiveness, coupled with sparodic success on the ground, the I.H.M. Panthers totaled another victory 13-6.

October 24 was a sad day for the Academy but happy for the Kingston Pirates because of their victory. The Academy couldn't seem to roll. Some of the bad luck was due to injuries. The final score was 24-13.

October 31 the Academy encountered the Plummer Pirates. After the opening kickoff Pat Coyle made the initial touchdown on a 35 yard drive. Minutes later Roy Gustafson scooted 35 yards on an end around for the second T.D. and Ereaux converted for the second time. Gustafson scored twice more in the first half for the Panthers making the score to 26-0. The second half was led by the second and third stringers of the I.H.M. lineup. The gun stopped the scoring at 32-0.

Mullan was the last encounter for the Panther football team. The game was played on a very nippy November afternoon on the frozen gridiron of the winners. Mullan, the larger team, overpowered the Panthers to a 33-0 victory.

PANTHER REVIEW

The I.H.M. Panthers of "51" did not taste the fruits of victory. Although the players were of average height and speed they did not fair so well in the Panhandle Conference.

However, under the coaching of Bob Ross, experience in the field of basketball and sportmanship, instead of victory were gained.

Top scorer of the year was Darrell Ereaux with 71 points. Next Tom Koep, 70 and Roy Gustafson 66.
