Hey girls, here comes the white tornado!!

Ohhhhh... Isn't he cute?

Don't just stand there, Do something!

Well, men, the situation's like this.

Oh, I don't really mind it.

School is so-o-o much fun.

We love you, Panthers!

Guess who?

Oh! A-ah, er... hi there.

It's for real, allright.

A lynch mob makes a futile attempt on Irving's life.

Carl, you wouldn't!! (or would you?)

Art Webb (80) begins the touchdown run that made the difference in the Panther's 1969 Homecoming game.

The opposition gains little headway as Jeff Wachter (60) makes a determined tackle.

Don Shannon somersaults to the turf in the wake of the defensive line.

Five Panthers converge on a fallen foe.

COACHES

"You bet!!!"

So I said to myself, "Self!"

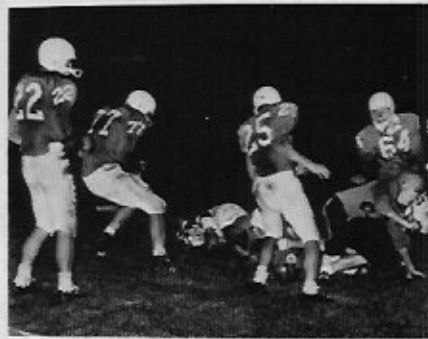

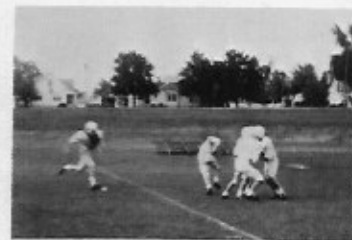

Dear John and Gene,

Thanks, Coaches! Thanks for scolding when we did wrong; for smiling when we did right; for laughing when we were happy; for consoling when we were sad; for being friends when we needed a friend; for just being the both of you! But thanks most of all for understanding that--well, we're just us. We were worried you were expecting someone else, but you understood, and we thank you for it!

Your friends and buddies,
The Men and Women of I. H. M.

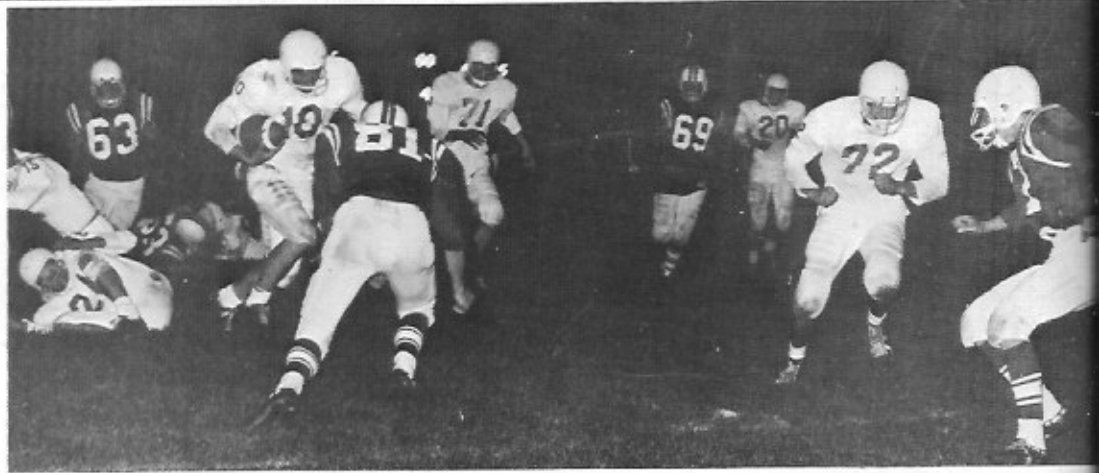

Something fast (no.22) gives the defensive secondary a few "second" thoughts.

Jeff Norton (10) attempts to follow a slim trail blazed by teammate Jim Dolan (72).

Ya, sure Jim.... Uh huh!!!

Sure it was tough, but now it really Jives.

Well, I took this summer course, ya see...

The woods is full of 'em!

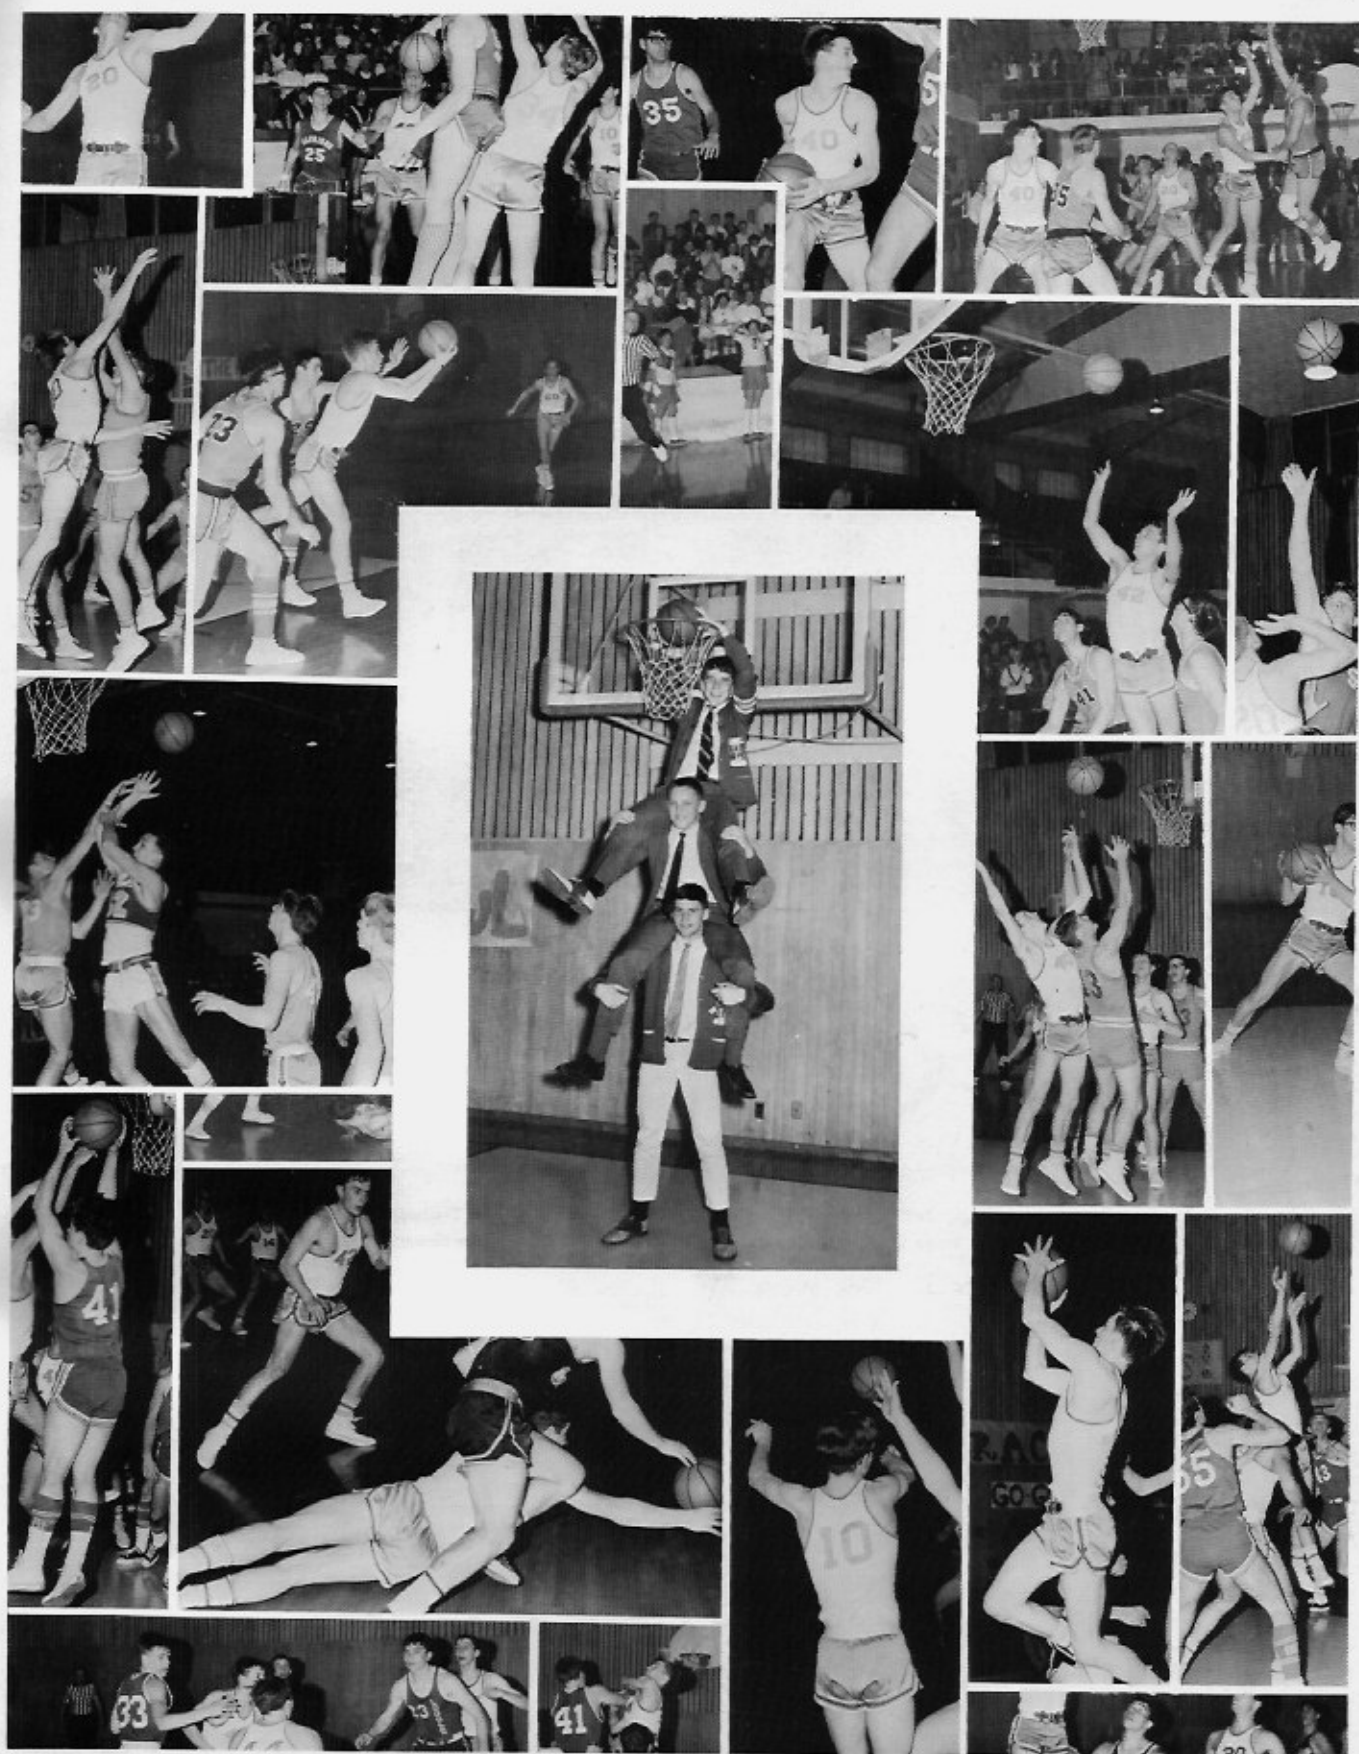

Says Theresa:
"It'll turn out in the 'end'!"

Thank you, Thank you.
