HONOR THY MOTHER

Once a year, boys and girls around the world enjoy the opportunity to show their appreciation for their mothers. It should be a day renowned by all. To think of the many sacrifices our mothers have made for our well being, it would only seem fitting and right that one day out of the year, we should, in some way, try to express our gratitude.

The origin of Mother's Day traces back to the beginning of this century. Miss Anna Jarvis is credited with being the founder of the holiday, which became a national holiday in 1913 on the second Sunday in the month of May. Later, it became a holiday observed by nations throughout the world. Although it is a universal day, it should also be a personal day in which love and respect should be shown to our mothers.

MY NAME IS GOSSIP...

I have no respect for justice; no mercy for the defenseless.

I ruin without killing.

I tear down homes;

I break hearts and wreck lives.

You will find me in the pews of the pious, and the haunts of the unholy.

I am wily, cunning, malicious, and I gather strength with age.

I make my way where greed, mistrust, and dishonor are unknown.

I feed on good and bad alike.

My victims are as numerous as the sands of the sea, and often as innocent.

I never forgive and seldom forget.

My name is GOSSIP.

NOVENA ACCENTS MARY'S MONTH

As the month of May dawned, a special devotion was saved for the Mother of God for her month by the Academy High School and many of St. Thomas Parish.

In the Academy, the freshmen knowing that May is the month of Mary started it by giving special tribute to Mary by the building of May altars as a religion class project.

Soon after, each class room was decorated and the fragrance of the shrines flowers could be smelled.

But the best part was yet to come; for Our Lady's month was highlighted by the beautiful solemn Novena to Our Mother of Perpetual Help given by Father De Bolt. Then on its last day May 12, the Novena was preceded by a procession, the singing of hymns and the crowning of Mary at her grotto on the Academy grounds.

CATHOLIC YOUTH WEEK OBSERVED

Academy students joined the youth of the nation in celebrating Catholic Youth Week.

On Sunday, May 3 members of the high school assisted at the 8 o'clock Mass in St. Thomas Church and received Holy Communion.

The sermon given by Father DeBolt stressed the importance of the actions of youth today. He said that if everybody is committing a sin it doesn't make it right.

PASTOR ENDS 5 YEAR TERM

Do you want to travel, go places, meet people, then become a Redemptorist Missionary. This is the advice of Father Fredrick Vickstrom, who in the past twenty-four years has visited over four hundred parishes in the eight Western States, which included Portland, Oregon, Whittier, and Hollywood, California.

Born in Seattle, Father was one of seven children, five sisters and one brother. His mother is still living.

Father was ordained a Redemptorist Priest in 1940 and spent seventeen years as a missionary giving retreats and missions. In 1945 he was made Assistant Pastor of the St. Thomas Parish, Coeur d'Alene. In 1951 he returned to mission work until 1959 when he was made Pastor of St. Thomas Parish.

It has come time again for reappointment. If he is to be transferred, Father will have his bag packed, if not he will stay with us. Either way he will be doing the job God has chosen for him.

GONZAGA HOSTS CONFERENCE

Seven members of the Sodality of Our Lady from the Academy attended the Inland Empire Sodality Conference at Gonzaga Prep School in Spokane, Washington.

The purpose of the conference was to make it possible for each attending sodality to profit from the experiences of other sodalities. This was done by open discussions, by the sodalists themselves, unattended by superiors.

Some of the topics discussed were: Image of the Sodality, Social Patterns for Sodalists, and Effective Sodality Meetings and Activities.

Students from the Academy attending the conference were accompanied by Sister M. Philip, Sodality Moderator and by Sister M. Mariel.

"OH! HELLO SISTER"

Stephen Bowser

Here she comes, making the rounds. Boy, am I going to fool her this time. By now she must be marking F's for me in advance. But this time she's really going to be surprised. Oh-Oh. There's someone who didn't.

I can hardly wait to see her face when she sees that I have it done.

Here she comes, I'd better get it out and waiting for her. Now let's see, It's right....right....where the heck did I.....

"Oh! Hello Sister, I can't understand it, I'm sure I did it."

"Oh, I see" scribble, scribble.

I can't see what the mark was but I think I can make a pretty accurate guess.

FACULTY ANNOUNCE SUMMER SCHEDULE

While the many students of the Academy will be enjoying a summer of fun and leisure, the faculty members will be continuing their education at surrounding colleges and universities.

Sister Barbara, for the second year in a row, has received an eight-week grant to the university waiting to broaden her knowledge in Math and Science.

Sisters Philip Neri, Alphonsa, and Philip will be taking refresher courses in their respective fields at Gonzaga University. Sister Mariel will be taking courses in English at Portland University, and Mr. Doheny is undecided on what he intends to do.

So you can see that we aren't the only persons who have to suffer. Teachers also have to go to school.

ACADEMY GIRLS TAKE AWARDS

SUMMER READING PROGRAM BEGINS

Although school will be dismissed on May 29, many of the Academy students won't forget about books. This is due to the fact that the National Catholic High School Summer Reading Program is now in effect throughout the school.

All students entering the high school are enrolled in this program. They are required to read at least four of the books on the specified list, and will make use of the Summer Reading Notebook which they purchased. Next fall, tests will be given on the books which the students have read. These tests, if completed successfully, will take the place of a book report in the normal school year. Everyone should take full advantage of this program.

PANTHER TEAM PLACES THIRD

Chuck Harding's Panthers placed third in a six-team meet in Wallace on May 9 with a score of 355. Wallace and Kellogg came in first and second with 345 and 354, respectively. In placing third, the Academy defeated Couer d'Alene High, Kootenai, and Sandpoint.

On May 11 the Panthers competed with 34 other teams in the Inland Empire High School Invitational Tournament at Indian Canyon Golf Course in Spokane.

Talk of forming a league to include the Academy, CHS, Sandpoint, Wallace, Kellogg, and Kootenai is in the air, and games will be scheduled with several Spokane schools next season. Things look very promising for next year with all but Matt Johnston returning, and Tom Neeser and Gary O'Connell mastering the game.

GOLF MEMBERS MERIT LETTERS

Eight members of the Academy Golf Team have earned letters in the team's first season. Jim Hofmeister, 86; John Wakefield, 89; Bill McFarland, 90; Bob Huetter, 94; John Hartnett, 96; Matt Johnston, 99; Mark Ballantyne, 102; and Gary Miles, 104. The letters were awarded on a basis of maintaining a position in the top six or by participating in at least one-quarter of the team's scheduled matches.

IT'S A DOG'S WORLD

--Linda Roberts

Since summer is almost here and everyone will have a sudden surplus of extra time, Hilda and I have decided to give you a few helpful hints that are really never fail ideas to keep you from getting the summer time blues.

1. Always go swimming at least once a day and be sure to take your dog along.

2. Eat plenty of hamburgers and French fries and be sure to save the scraps for your dog.

3. Sleep until at least 11.59--you have to be up in time to say good morning to your dog.

4. Get in at least one game of tennis a week--play with the backboard if you have to because Fido needs the exercise.

5. Go to church on Sunday--dogs follow good examples, too you know.

We must bid you farewell until next year when we'll be five years wiser and three months older.

ONLY FOR PEOPLE...

--Jan Karst

The best way to win an argument is to avoid it! And the best way to avoid an argument is to never tell a person he is wrong. Show respect for the other man's opinions, tell him he's wrong in a round about way. Use a little diplomacy. Old King Akhoi said one afternoon, between drinks, 4,000 years ago. "Be diplomatic. It will help you gain your point." And! If you are wrong admit it, quickly and enthusiastically. Remember the old proverb. "By fighting you never get enough, but by yielding you get more than you expected."

Let's say you and some one are differing on what to do for the afternoon. He wants to go bug hunting and you want to climb trees, neither one of you is getting anywhere. What should you do? You can try to see things from the other person's point of view, be sympathetic with him (someone has to), and begin in a friendly way to dramatize your ideas. And then if he still doesn't see things your way throw down a challenge.

"If you want to gather honey, don't kick over the bee-hive."

GROSS EXAGGERATIONS

--Marilyn Gross

I received a letter a couple months ago in which I was sent an article from the Journal, a Walla Walla high school paper. It was forwarded to me because of its obvious importance(?) to the American people. I now feel that it is my duty to forward it to you, students of the Academy.

The article was entitled "Beware of Pickles--Pickles Can Kill" and progressed as follows:

"Taken from the Paola, Kansas Reporter, who found it in the Ottawa Record, is this expository work. The members of the Journal (Laurel) staff urge you to read carefully, and hope that this earth-shaking report will not go by unnoticed. These are the facts. Read and beware! It's later than you think!

1. 75% of all persons killed in auto accidents during 1963 had eaten pickles fourteen days previous to their accidents.
2. 99.34% of all American soldiers in World War II had eaten pickles.
3. All persons born in 1780 who ate pickles are dead. Also, all persons born from 1781-1880 who are still living and have eaten pickles have wrinkles and creased skin.
4. Last, but not least, in a test conducted by this reporter, it was found that if a typical teen-age boy is given two six-packs of beer and just one pickle, he will be wild and reckless within a very short time."

STRIKE THREE, YOU'RE OUT!

Patricia Ransom

Never before had I played baseball. Not that it was foreign to me, I'm quite a fan,---but it all looks so easy when you're an enthusiastic spectator.

At our class party I began as a professional baseball failure. Some of the boys were organizing a game of softball, so I decided to try out. My turn at bat came in the third inning. I tried not to show my nervousness, but I'm not very good at acting either.

A quick ball; a good pitch, a clumsy batter and someone jeered "Strike one". The third time I swung like a real pro---a professional badminton player, that is, two strikes, one ball. I felt a telltale red creeping up my cheeks, but I was determined to hit that ball. After two balls in quick succession, the pitch I'd been expecting all night inched toward me. It was a beautiful slow ball, creeping stealthily in, seemingly backing away again, staying tantalizingly out of reach. So defiant way its challenge. "See if you can hit me" that I swung in blind rage.

Much to my anger and embarrassment, I found that I had missed the ball, but let go of the bat, sending it flying three yards beyond 3rd for a blundering foul.

With a flushed face and forced grin, I turned hesitatingly to my captain and mumbled weakly "I'm out".

GIRL STATERS ATTEND TEA

The Girls' State candidates and their mothers attended a tea on Saturday, May 2, at the American Legion Hall.

Last years Girls States were present and told of their experiences while at Caldwell last year.

Mrs. Watkins, the head of the American Legion Auxiliary, directed the proceedings. Cokes and coffee and cupcakes were served and the candidates were given time to ask any questions concerning their trip.

Among those in attendance were the two delegates from I.H.I. Academy, Janice McGregor and Linda Roberts.

GIRLS WILL SPORT A NEW LOOK

A modernization of the Academy girls is about to take place. Beginning next year a new uniform style will be offered.

The new uniform will consist of a royal blue blazer with a white Academy emblem and a blue plaid skirt with permanent pleats.

Both blazer and skirt are wool. A sweater may be purchased in addition to the blazer.

OMISSION

In the April issue of the Laurel two names were omitted from the list of senior musicians, Barbara Scharff and Judy Gehlen. Judy is an organist for St. Thomas Church.

C. PALMER RELATES TOUR

Cathy Palmer

Along with the other first, second, and third place winners in the Inland Empire Science Fair, I was awarded a 3-day expense-paid Washington Water Power tour.

The Greyhound charter bus left for Seattle from Spokane at 11:30 a.m. May 7, amid T. V. cameras and reporters. Box lunches were served immediately, to keep the ice cream from melting any more than it already had. We were served beef-burgers, salad, potato chips and milk.

After stops at Moses Lake, George, and Ellensburg to pick up more "scientists" we were a total of 24.

We arrived at our Seattle destination, the YMCA for the boys and the YWCA for the girls, at 6:00 p.m. Before leaving the bus, we were given money for dinner and the next day's breakfast, and allowed free time until 11 or 12 p.m. Most of us went to the movies, or to the Seattle Center (Space Needle, Pacific Science Center, etc.)

At 8:30 a.m. Friday we boarded the bus again, and rode to the Boeing Airplane Division at Renton where we watched passenger and air-force planes and jets being assembled. At the conclusion of the 3-hour tour we had lunch in the Boeing Cafeteria.

Immediately after lunch we rode to the Bethlehem Steel Co., stopping midway at the airport to pick up cameramen from the three Spokane T.V. stations. Upon arrival at the company we were given hard hats and goggles to wear until the end of the tour. We were divided into three groups and conducted from the "melting pots" to the ovens and rolling mills, and finally to the spectro-chemistry lab at 3 o'clock.

Once Again we were given money and free time until 6:15 p.m. Then we met the bus at the "Y" again, this time in dressy attire for dinner at the waterfront restaurant, "Windjammer." We walked along the waterfront before ascending to the "Commodore's Cabin," reserved for our group. After dinner color slides were shown of the science fair, winner's banquet, and awards presentation. We had free time until 11:30.

On Saturday we were rudely awakened by the chaperones via telephone at 6:30 a.m. The bus (loaded with suitcases for the trip home in the afternoon) was to leave at 7:30 for the final tour, the F.A.A. Control center at Auburn. Well, at 8:45 two boys were found still asleep in bed. Needless to say, we were a half-hour late for the tour. It was worth every inconvenience. On the radar screens we watched two planes land at Klamath Falls, while we listened to the pilot and controller talk. This control center tour was the most educational.

The bus started for Spokane at 1:00 p.m. after lunch and everyone was livelier than on the entire trip, trying to make the most of the little time left. In the three days we had become close friends and had to part until, we hope, next year when we plan to meet at the Science Fair and go to Seattle.

LEGION HOLDS ANNUAL PICNIC

A short spring shower didn't dampen the spirits of the Junior Legion of Mary on their annual function, a picnic held at Terrace Grove overlooking Lake Coeur d'Alene. The Legionaires invited the high school faculty and Mrs. James Ransom to be their guests.

Junior Legionaires in attendance were: Valerie McRill, Pam Peters, Kathy Kryger, Clara Miller, Anne Kryger, Michael Ransom, Shiela Johnston, Margaret Riplinger, Patricia Ransom and Vicki Peterson. Sisters Avellina, Barbara, Philip Neri, Alphonsa, Philip, Mariel, and Rosira and Mrs. Ransom were also present.

HORIZON CLUB SPONSORS TEA

The Horizon Mothers' Tea was held at the Washington Water Power Company, May 9.

The Mothers were presented with flowers as they entered the hall.

Entertainment was presented by various groups. Mrs. Bruce Palmer's group of Juniors put on a skit "Goldy Locks and the Three Bears." The Horizon Club members also sang a selection of songs.

The girls served their mothers coffee and cookies.
