PARISH NOTES.

A Word to Our Parents

Next month schools will re-open for the fall term, and it is an appropriate time to say a word to our parents in regard to the matter of Catholic education for our boys and girls. Surely all Catholic parents realize the necessity of religious education for their children, especially in this day and age when there is such crying need of the safeguards of religion. Today, when the enemies of the Church are endeavoring to legislate our Catholic schools out of existence; today, when religion, sincere and true, alone can save our church and country from the malicious attacks of those who would ruin both; today, more than ever, our parents must wake up to their bounden obligation of sending their children to a Catholic school and none other. The Academy of the Immaculate Heart of Mary supplies every educational need, temporal and spiritual; the Sisters in charge are exceptionally well fitted for and thoroughly experienced in the work of education, and their equipment is in every way suited to the needs of the present day school-room. There are spacious dormitories for the boarders and ample classrooms for both boarders and day scholars. The music department, wherein violin and piano lessons are given and all practice hours superintended by competent teachers, is a splendid opportunity for music pupils, old and young, and is well patronized. The enrollment in years past has been very gratifying to the Sisters in charge and it is expected that this year the attendance will be even greater than ever before. All communications in regard to enrollment and so forth may be addressed to Sister Superior, Academy I. H. M., Coeur d'Alene, Idaho.

During the Coeur d'Alene regatta, held on the fifth of July, the ladies of St. Thomas' Church conducted a lunch room on Sherman Avenue. Too much praise cannot be given these good women for their arduous labors during the stressful days when, in spite of the many attractions and opportunities for amusements and entertainment, they remained faithfully at the post of duty and worked so efficiently and untiringly in the interests of the parish. As a result, the goodly sum of $607.25, was netted and applied to the debt on the church. The heartfelt thanks of the pastor and people are hereby extended to all who contributed to the success of this enter-

Saturday, June 26th, the Catholic ladies gave a farewell party to Mrs. J. Meyer and Grandma Meyer at the home of Mrs. Frank McGowan. The evening was spent playing 500. Mrs. Cullen won the first prize and Mrs. Bouchard the second prize.

Mrs. J. Meyer and family left on July 2 for Berkeley, Cal., to join Mr. Meyer, who went to California last April.

Wednesday, July 7, at 9 o'clock in the morning, Miss Anna McMillan and Mr. James Brebner were united in marriage by Father Bonora. They left the same day for Calkins, Montana, where Mr. Brebner has a ranch.

Tuesday, July 13, Father Bonora officiated at the funeral services of Dr. John Martin Brady.

Stricken last January with influenza, during an epidemic of the disease then prevailing. In due course he recovered sufficiently to enable him to continue his dental practice, but not as a well man. The influenza left him the germs of tuberculosis and a few weeks ago, the disease had progressed so far that he had to close his office and enter a sanitarium for treatment. He entered the Riverton, Wash., sanitarium early in June, where he died Tuesday, July 6th, at the age of 38 years.

The body was brought to St. Maries Saturday by a brother, Dr. F. J. Brady, of Denver, Colo.

H. H. Downey, brother of J. P. Downey, is spending his vacation with his brother. He will return to Madison, Wis., in the fall to resume his studies at the University.
